ADVS Students Research Symposium 2021

If possible, please plan to attend and present at the symposium in person. The last presentation format is intended for students that are not able to attend the symposium in person due to concerns related to the Covid-19 pandemic or other extenuating circumstances. We believe there is a lot of value in attending the symposium and presenting your research to a live audience that can give you live feedback as this more closely emulates the experience of a regional, national or international scientific conference. If you have additional questions about presentation format, don't hesitate to reach out to the chair of this years symposium committee: Dr. Kara Thornton (kara.thornton@usu.edu).

In-Person Live Presentation:

- Students that are more advanced in their degree programs are encouraged to give a live presentation that is approximately 10 minutes in length with 3 minutes for questions. These presentations will be given to a live audience and also broadcast live over Zoom for those who cannot attend in person. In-person live presentations will be recorded and posted on the Canvas page unless the student indicates that they would not like their presentation recorded. Please discuss this in advance with your mentor.

In-Person Poster and Flash Talk:

- Students will give a brief 3 minute presentation to a live audience that is also broadcast over Zoom. This presentation will have a few slides that introduce their presentation topic and encourage individuals to come to their in-person poster and learn more about their research project. You can think of this presentation as being a “teaser” or “commercial” for your research project. Students will also prepare a printed poster that will be put on a poster board and individuals attending the symposium in person can come and visit your poster and hear your overview of the research and ask any questions. Each poster presentation session will be approximately 30 minutes in length.

In-Person Poster:

- Students will prepare a printed poster that will be put on a poster board and individuals attending the symposium in person can come and visit your poster and hear your overview of the research and ask any questions. Each poster presentation session will be approximately 30 minutes in length.

Pre-Recorded Mini Presentation:

- Students will use Zoom to pre-record a 4-5 minute mini presentation that describes their research project. In this presentation students will put together a few slides that briefly describe their research project. This presentation will be posted on the Canvas page and individuals will have the opportunity to ask you questions through a Canvas discussion board.

More details regarding the specific details and rubrics for each presentation will be posted at a later date. These brief descriptions are intended to give you enough information to choose your preferred presentation format that you will submit through the link by June 25th at 5:00 pm (mountain time).*
